EQUIVALENT-ABSTRACTS:

NOVELTY - A remote control device (10), used for accessing an entertainment transmission, e.g. American football, on a television set, has a body (12) with several control buttons (14), and an infrared transmitter (16) to transmit the control signals. The device's body is decorated to resemble an aspect of the entertainment transmission, i.e. is in the shape of an American football.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - The buttons are arranged to resemble e.g. patterns and laces on an American football. The remote control can also be used to access ordinary television programs. Authorization to use the remote control decoration can be obtained through purchasing, licensing, contracts etc. This authority is held by the same person who has the authority to view the entertainment transmission.

INDEPENDENT CLAIMS are also included fro the following:

- (1) a system for enhancing an entertainment transmission; and
- (2) a remote control device used by a subscriber.

USE - For controlling a television. Can also be used to control video recorders, stereo systems and DVD players.

ADVANTAGE - The device can be held comfortably in the user's hand. The football team can earn revenue through the licensing. The remote control can also be shaped to resemble other objects, e.g. tennis ball with buttons along the seam, etc.

DESCRIPTION OF DRAWING(S) - The drawing shows a side elevational view of a remote controller.
